ECHO

Vol. 145, 1983
Greensboro College
Greensboro, N.C.

Dedication Beyond The Call Of Duty!

This year's dedication of the ECHO goes to Howard Dean "Butch" Sherrill, Dean of Student Affairs and Admissions, who cares greatly and works hard for the Greensboro College community. He is devoted to his profession and is willing to sacrifice his own personal time for us, his students, offering inspiration and a listening ear when we come to him with problems and complaints. Perhaps his most special quality is being able to enjoy friendly conversation with us when the problems and complaints die down. His job requires that he must often discipline G.C. students, but even so, he still somehow manages to be our friend.

Not Just The Same G.C.

The 1983 ECHO has been designed to portray in words and pictures our life at Greensboro College this year. In its pages we have tried to capture the progress and changes of our college and the highlights of student life. There are pictures of drudgery and hard work, play and excitement, success and, yes, even some failure; but after all, it is a combination of these things that have made up this year. We hope that even in the years to come, you will smile at the remembrances that return each time this book is opened.

What a year it has been! With orientation we found some old faces in new places. Tim Hamrick is the new postmaster since Darlene Stanley-Lewis moved to Admissions. Gail Murphy became the new Admissions Director when Jimmy Tucker left us last year. Wayne Stegall has added to his duties the responsibility of the campus clubs since Dean Sherrill received admission duties. Miss Tina moved from the snack bar to the cafeteria and Dorothy Richardson became Greensboro Dorm's director. The biggest change was Dr. Medlin becoming the head of the Education Department and Dr. Tatum becoming the new Academic Dean in January.

To capture those remembrances, several changes have been made in the book itself. It has more pages and color than any previous G.C. yearbook. The senior section is last this year, leading up to Graduation 1983. The organizations section has been revised. Emphasis has been placed on the activities of the clubs.

Go ahead — flip through the pages. See if you agree that this was "not just another ECHO and not just another year!"

Elizabeth Mackey may not be a new addition to G.C.'s campus but her little friend, Adolf, has been adopted as the campus pet.

Chuck Franks serves as new entertainment at our first Prime Rib Supper Club on October 22nd.

Mrs. Dorothy Richardson is the new dorm director of G boro Dorm and as a joke, this sign was placed out in front of the dorm

Robin Matte, a Sr. this year, makes a "new" face for the photographer on the evening of the Stu Opening in August.

Norman Gunn (Jr.) and Henry Stone (Sr.) are the new additions to the cafeteria staff and here they demonstrate what a typical workday is like.

At a meeting with the faculty, freshmen Carol Ledbetter, Missy Tinney, Caroline Tasch, and Helen Peebles join Bruce Cook (G.C. graduate, '82) and Gayle Allred (Sr.) for a bit of entertainment.

While pointing out an interesting fact to Vicki Cowan and Joy Terrell, Kelly Erwin represents a new job given to Residence Assistances which is working 3 hours/week during visitation.

Freshman advisory meetings may not change but the faces do, as we see Jessica Goodman, Edith Dolly, and Kenny Burgess pictured here.

Welcome Back!

G.C.'s Favorite Place

The Grand Opening of the Student Center topped off orientation week on Friday, August 20, 1982. This was an introduction of the "Stu" for the freshmen and the first social activity of the year for all G.C. students. Everyone had a chance to get involved as the evening included some unique events, such as a Mello Yello Chugging contest. Several people tested their nimbleness in the Limbo Contest, while others tried to stomp a balloon that was tied to their ankles in the Balloon Stomp Event. A Banana-Split Contest was also included in the fun and games. Real swingers got into the Hula Hoop Contest and the strategists took part in the Video Games Event. Also featured were music and refreshments so that everyone could have something to do for sure.

Throughout the year, the Stu is a G.C. place to be. There, the students and the faculty can unwind and talk, enjoy a game of pool, have an order of french-fries, or catch a round or two of video games. This year the Stu has had some major changes. A partition was added to separate the TV area from the eating area. The games were moved to the side room and the tables were moved into the main area. These changes were made by suggestions of the Recreational Facility & Design class and Wayne Stegall. The Changes were made possible by a few volunteer carpenters and painters. With these new looks, our Stu is really the place to be!

Under the supervision of Gloria Torres, Patrick Ramsey participates in the limbo contest while Rueben Hawkins observes.

Brian Fisher and Sally Jane "Sas" Conner seem to be entertaining themselves.

Darryl Waller and Jane "Speedy" Conner discuss the activities taking place.

While other G.C. students take advantage of video fun, pool shark, Debbie Barker shows her skill.

Home Away From Home Beach Day At G.C.

One festivity to start off our year here at G.C. was a beach party located on the back campus sponsored by the Student Union. Ricky Hambright served as D.J., playing our favorite beach tunes as well as some rock-n-roll. Tony Tilley provided hot dogs, hamburgers and the trimmings, topping the meal off with watermelon.

Of course our Beach Party would not have been a complete success without our traditional shag contest. This year there were three couples that entered, with cash prizes being awarded to each couple. Gloria Torres, Tony Tilley, and Janice Wren serves as judges. Coming in first place was Diana Bowen and Al Massey. Pat Mitchel and Vikie Wysocki (UNC-CH) came in second while Lisa Milton and John Williamson took third place.

For those athletically inclined there was Frisbee, football and a volleyball tournament.

What a way to start our new year. Everyone seemed to have a great time. The only thing that was missing was the sea breeze and the sand.

Although they didn't participate in the Shag Contest, Janice Wren and Dr. Barrett gave the G.C. students an excellent demonstration.

Carlita Shumate and Jamie Foxx man the leu while discussing the events of the picnic.

Leaving the beach scene, we see Sue Mappus and Pam Harrison on the go.

Sylvia Brady and Teresa DeAtley discuss a few detail while the bloodmobile is being set up.

Tonya Bennett answers medical background questions which help ensure the donors safety.

Lisa Winstead is still smiling as she gives blood for the first time.

104 Lose Blood!

Wednesday, September 22 was the day. New Women's lobby was the place. The Red Cross Bloodmobile came to the Greensboro College campus for the annual fall blood drive, sponsored by the Mentors. Coordinating the entire event was Mrs. Sylvia Brady, Director for the Blood Services for the Greensboro Chapter. Workers at the Bloodmobile were volunteers from the community and the Mentors.

Red Construction paper and footprints placed on the walkways led volunteers to the lobby of the New Women's Dormitory. There the potential donors went through the various station where their weight was recorded and their blood pressure, temperature, pulse, and iron level were checked. As much as the Red Cross needs blood, these measures are to ensure the safety of the donor. If all of these are satisfactory, the volunteer can then actually donate, a relatively painless process which only takes about ten minutes. Afterwards, they are led to the canteen to enjoy refreshments.

The blood drive this year was very successful — 104 pints were collected. There had been 121 volunteers, but seventeen had to be refused. The majority of the donors were G.C. students; the remainder were faculty and members of the community. There were also three people who reached a gallon — Kim Taylor, Debbie Barker and Lisa Smith. Congratulations girls, and congratulations G.C. for giving the gift of life.

Refreshments are enjoyed by Leigh Ann Reeves, Coach Jean Lojko and Joe Shelton.

Kim Taylor and Lisa Gibson have a few moments to talk while waiting to give.

Action: We've Got What It Takes!

Fall Sports At G.C.

Fall sports at Greensboro College include varsity tennis, volleyball basketball and cross-country. Fall is also a time for intramural events. Included are chess tournaments, two man volleyball, badminton, flag football, eightball, fall relays, tennis, volleyball and three on three basketball.

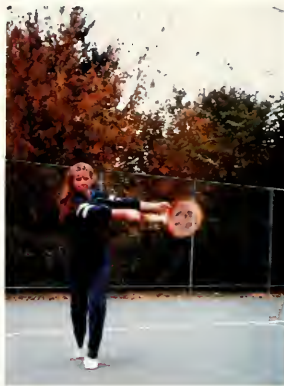

The varsity season opens with women's volleyball. Coach Jean Lojko spurrs the Lady Hornets to make them the winning team in Greensboro College history.

Cross country did well this year under the direction of Coach Ron Mikels. They participated in conference events, invitationals and public runs including the Greensboro 10K. Added to this years team are a number of women. They ran very well and definitely helped the looks of the team.

Former G.C. student and now head coach, Darry Toler, trained the women's tennis team through practices and scrimmages. The team wears their motto proudly — "Love Means Nothing To Us".

Student Union and Intramural Director Wayne Stegall, has been busy this year as usual. Intramurals are open to all people connected with the college including students, faculty, and staff. Many events have three categories including men's, women's and co-recreational.

Laurie Portzline displays her great forehand during tennis practice.

Running in the Tri-meet, at Greensboro's J.C. Park, is Mike Rhodes, Mike Absher, and Tom Halfaker.

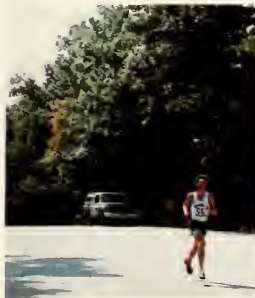

Elaine Penn, concentrating on her serve at a challenging game against N.C. Wesleyan, is one of G.C.'s valuable players.

Demonstrating her serve is Kim "Boozie" Melton.

George Ling shows sympathy and lends Dean Sherrill a hand after the ball slipped through his hands during an intramural football game.

Trick Or Treat!

G.C. Celebrates Halloween

Creatures of all types abounded at the annual Halloween Celebration Saturday, October 30. The festivities were held in the cafeteria and included a special buffet dinner, jack-o-lantern and costume contests, and a dance.

The contests were held during the dinner hour with Dave Phillips as emcee and Wayne Stegall, Tony Tilley, and Gayle Coble as judges. The results of the jack-o-lantern contest were announced first. Robin Matte along with Daryl Whittington and Cheryl Wiegert took first place and a $25 prize with "Pac Pumpkin". In second place, winner of a $15 prize was Elise Carey with "Coach." "George" by Becky Jones won third place and a $10 prize. The costume contest followed, and each entry was escorted by the Master and Mistress of Ceremonies, Mr. and Mrs. Gortrockz (John Williamson and Sally Conner). There were many entries for the judges to choose from, but when the votes were tallied, "Pac Man" (Robin Matte and Lisa Gibson) and "A Deadly Couple" (Daryl Whittington and Cheryl Wiegert).

son) won first place and a $25 prize. Daryl Whittington and Cheryl Wiegert came in second as "The Deadly Couple" and won a $15 prize. In third place, winner of $10, was Santa & Co. (Amy Benton, Kathy Kirkpatrick, Sandy Lanier, and Carol Stone).

A party-dance, with "Wild Bill" Scarboro as deejay, held later that evening completed the activities. The entire celebration was a success — thanks to everyone who participated!

Emcee Dave Phillips, assisted by Wayne Stegall, prepares to commence the jack-o-lantern and costume contests.

Ingenuity and imagination are necessary requirements for the costume contest, as shown by first and second place winners "Pac Man" (Robin Matte and Lisa Gibson) and "A Deadly Couple" (Daryl Whittington and Cheryl Wiegert).

Contestants "Pac Man", "A Deadly Couple", "Clown" (Jamie Fadel), and "Ms. Pac Man" (Elizabeth Mackey) were well received by the audience.

Tammy Toebes as the "Wicked Witch" casts a gleaming eye over the crowd.

Anticipation builds as contestants "Beach Bum 1901" (Terri Poole), Hoetensia and Phoebe" (Georgia Worley and Paula Cox); and "Santa & Co." (Amy Renton, Kathy Kirkpatrick, Sandy Lanier, and Carol Stone) await the judges' decision.

Master of Ceremonies, "Mr. Gotrockz" (John Williamson) escorts "A Deadly Couple" to the judges.

Christmas Tradition For G.C.

Candlelight, Song, And Fellowship

Front campus was aglow with the soft light of luminaries, dimmed by a mist of rain, as the Greensboro College community gathered in Finch Chapel Sunday, December 5, for the celebration of the Festival of Lessons and Carols. Brought from Cambridge, England by Dr. James Hull, the service is in its seventeenth year, and has become a tradition for the college and the surrounding community.

The service consists of seven lessons, read by members of the G.C. community, followed by a hymn appropriate to the lesson. This year's readers were: Judy Jackson ('83), editor of the yearbook; John Williamson ('83), president of SGA; Dr. Kemper Callahan, professor of Biology; Mr. Edward Coleman, professor of English; Dr. Barnes Tatum, professor of Religion; Mrs. Polly Bowman, secretary of Student Affairs; and Alvin, G.C. grounds-keeper.

Music was provided by the concert choir, under the direction of Miss Anne Woodward, and accompanied by Cara Jo Carico. Following the seven lessons and carols, the Christ Candle was passed to the congregation by Student Christian Fellowship President, Kim Taylor, as Lynn Brady sang "O Holy Night". The service was then concluded with the singing of "Silent Night" by everyone outside around the fountain on front campus, accompanied by Frank Howard and Lisa Smith on guitars.

Although the weather dampened the evening, it could not dampen the spirit of the participants as they gathered to celebrate a very special season of the year.

Mentors Kim Taylor and Georgia Worley help incoming students move in.

At an RA-Mentor meeting on August 14th., Bill Dameron hands Robin Matte the list of items telling where each person will be assisting during the following week.

Charlene Martin, Dani Worthy, Kevin Worthy, and Tim Hamrick listen as the meeting continues.

After printing the greeting to everyone on the rock, Amy Benton, Daryl Whittington, Carol Gray, and Carol Stone decide to goof off and enjoy themselves.

Home Away From Home!

At a reception given for the freshmen, Dawna Tate, Kathryn Cartner, Kim Baker, Beth Parlier, and Tammy Crusade take time to get to know each other.

Welcome to Greensboro College!

Orientation Week is designed to give you the best possible introduction to G.C., both academically and socially. The focus, of course, is on your academic orientation, but we try to compliment that with activities and programs that will give you a break from the academic rigors.

There is opportunity to become acquainted with all aspects of student life. You will meet the faculty and be introduced to the various disciplines which they present. You will meet new people from neighboring cities, neighboring states, and possibly neighboring countries. We will attempt to present the services and opportunities available at G.C. in such a way as to familiarize but not overwhelm you. This week is planned to help prepare you for your first semester at G.C., and it will be both informative and entertaining.

The Office of Student Affairs welcomes the opportunity to be of service to you during your stay at G.C. We are glad you have become a member of our campus community.

Sincerely,

Howard D. Sherrill, Jr.
Dean of Students.

Rollerskating.

Action On Wheels!

The Mentors planned a roller-skating party at the Skate Station II as one of the many fun activities for the freshmen during orientation week. Some students showed their professional skills while others learned through receiving help from a friend or the most unfortunate ones, falling. This party gave the Mentors an opportunity to get to know their Mentees a little bit better.

Mary Rainey, Norman Gunn, and Karen Stovall try to decide if they want to skate.

Carol Gray helps Mentee, Fred Smith, leave the floor while Mike Holland skates by.

Lisa Herndon and Lisa Sturgis hang on as Richard Hunt leads the way around the rink, with Patty Gerber following close behind.

Laura Tucker demonstrates some of her dancing skills while on skates.

Gardiner Henderson, Carol Gray, Colleen Murray, Kim Campbell, and Teresa DeAtley decide to take a break and enjoy some refreshments.

Water Sliding

After a rough trip, Terri Poole decides if she wants to take another trip down the slide.

Wet And Wild!

The Oasis Waterslide was the scene of one of the student activities held during the fall. Students braved the cold weather to get their share of fast, clean, wet fun. As they splashed down the slippery slides into the cold pools of water, screams of excitement filled the air. Various styles of mat-sliding were attempted. Some tried sitting and bellying down the chutes. Still others, namely Dale Tomblin and Steve Ferciot, found they liked sliding without mats. One of the most popular ways was to double up on the mat. Debbie DeGonge commented that the ride was faster with two on the mat. "Weezie" Wood said "the only thing I thought about on the way down was hitting that cold water". Although the weather wasn't the "tropical" type, students still seemed to enjoy themselves.

Sue Baldwin and Taffy McLean attempt to recover from their journey.

Jean Clark demonstrates that going headfirst can be fun too.

Western Nite. Our Grass Is Blue!

Country Music invaded the atmosphere at G.C. on September 10th, when Brian Huskey performed in one of our well known picnics. At the same time, we had the opportunity to taste a delightful country style dinner as one of Tony Tilley's specialties while the top-quality performer delighted our ears.

Members of the Bond Street Theatre Coalition take their bows after a spectacular performance.

Mary Dino, as Chia the Moon Goddess, follows the Heavenly Choir Marching Band as the company begins their show.

As the company performs from "somewhere in the galaxy", the audience shows their appreciation.

The Hosanna Brothers (Michael McGuigan and Joanna Sherman) have yet another brilliant idea to thwart the attempts of Chia.

The World Will Never Be The Same!

The company, led by ex-Secretary of State Alexander Hog (Stephen Ringold), makes a grand entrance to begin their performance.

Dateline: September 30, 1982, 11:30 am, Greensboro College. Chia, the Moon Goddess, and her cohort Agent Orange were seen at this location today. Reliable sources say that the powerful goddess has arranged a "Powerplay" between ex-Secretary of State, Alexander Hog, and the Enemy. Unless the bumbling, but very well intentioned, Hosanna Brothers can thwart Chia's attempts, the world as we know it could change forever.

This was "Powerplay III", or "A Day at the Arm's Races", performed by the very talented Bond Street Theatre Coalition of New York City. Chia, motivated by our ecological negligence and the attitude that we can handle anything that comes along, has created a very special video game, which she has placed in a rather unsuspecting truck stop. The purpose of the game is to decide world events between power hungry politicians and corporate war mongers; in this particular instance, the opponents are ex-Secretary of State Alexander Hog and a man known to us only as the "Enemy." The situation is not totally hopeless however, the humans do have someone on their side: enter the Hosanna Brothers to the rescue. They are an entertaining pair of "gods", not always exactly on top of the situation at hand; they are usually half-a-step behind Chia and her doings. Caught up in all these goings-on is Frisbee, the girl reporter who always seems to stumble onto bits and pieces of information; Pyramid, the naive object of her affections; and, of course, what would a truck stop be without truckers? All is well in the end — The Hosanna Brothers have the proper brainstorm in the nick of time, and save the world from disaster.

The Bond Street Theatre Coalition is by no means ordinary theater. They are experts of commedia dell'arte-street style, incorporating into their performances their many talents of music, juggling, acrobatics, and of course acting. These qualities add so much to the play, making a not-so-pleasant subject a very entertaining event. This is what the Coalition seeks to accomplish — to reach as many people as possible and coax them into really looking at the world today and seeing the many imperfections that are there.

The multi-talented members of the company show their musical abilities as the Heavenly Choir Marching Band.

Jackey And Friends.

Sparkling Voices!

"But alive . . . but alive". If you were there, you could not have helped noticing the positive and encouraging atmosphere felt throughout the "full house" of the Parlor Theater, on October 7, 8, 9, and 10 when Jackey Brown's senior recital was presented.

A night to remember! As the title "Jackey and Friends" suggest not only that Jackey's outstanding performance was displayed but to the audience delight, many voice majors and the Gospel Choir joined her to add a touch of class to the performance. The "Best Little House in Texas", "Hard Candy Christmas", + "Hey There" are only a few of the songs heard that night.

Once more the Greensboro College students, staff, faculty, and community in general had the opportunity to enjoy a top quality performance outstandingly directed by Mr. Hart.

During the opening number, Mr. Leonard Hart executes his dramatic skills.

Founder's Day.

145 Years Old!

As the colors of fall slowly began to settle over the campus, Greensboro College honored its beginning at the traditional Founders' Day celebration. At midday on October 21, the college community gathered on back campus for awards, songs, food, and fellowship.

After the singing of the Alma Mater, the festivities began with the invocation by chaplain Linda Roth. Next, under the direction of Mrs. Anne Woodward and accompanied by Cara Carico, the G.C. Choir entertained the audience with "Alleluia", and "Now Thank We All Our God". These two traditions of Founder's Day were followed by the initiation of a new program this year. The Outstanding Young Alumni Recognition Award was given to four young alumni who had been nominated by the faculty. This year's recipients were Tom Brawley (1965), for Music, introduced by Mr. Hansen; Richard Hill (1974) for accounting, introduced by Mr. Frazier; David Shew (1974) for Biology, introduced by Dr. Kemper Callahan; and Chiyo Masaki Soroken (1971) for foreign language, introduced by Dr. Hoy. Each recipient was presented with an engraved plaque.

President Barrett next introduced the speaker for the occasion, Dr. Ernest Fitzgerald, senior minister of West Market Street United Methodist Church. The Founder's Day ceremonies were closed with the singing of the Doxology. The annual barbeque lunch followed, as the Stage Band provided entertainment, under the direction of Dr. Frederick Beyer.

John Williamson, 1981 Queen, Dr. Browde, and Janice Wren judge the participants on the basis of their personality, costumes, creativity, and talent. After an energetic display of unexpected talent and comical situations, Daryl Whittington, the 1982 Queen crowned Craig Vander Vennet who unanimously won not only the judge's highest scores but the audiences' greatest laughs.

The Womanless Beauty Pageant was sponsored by the senior class 83 as one of their fund raisers. This activity gave an opportunity to the male population at G.C. to display their imagination and gave an opportunity to the audience to enjoy a rather peculiar, to some extent, rare beauty.

Faculty And Staff Serve DOUBLE TAKE FOR STUDENTS!

Students were pleasantly surprised on September 23 to see their favorite faculty and staff members taking the place of the regular cafeteria employees, in serving the students a great meal. The dinner's menu included roast beef, baked potatoes, and all the trimmings; as well as delicious desserts. Tablecloths were unfolded, our chefs were decked in white smocks and chef's hats, and all that was needed were hungry students. Well, to say the least, we were able to fill the need. The students were also treated to an after dinner skit by the Covenant Players.

Put on your skating shoes and skate the blues away for Jerry Lewis' kids. Laura Moog coordinated a skate-a-thon on March 18, 1983 at the Skate Station on Battleground road. G.C. students were to find sponsors who would donate money depending on the amount of time they wanted to skate. The winners for this year were: Gloria Torres, first prize, who won a dinner for two at Kabuto's restaurant; Robin Matte, second prize, who won a dinner for two at Fran's Front Porch; and Kim Melton, third prize, who won a watch. Everyone who was there had a great time while helping Jerry Lewis' kids.

Robin Roberts and Laura Moog (coordinator) make sure everyone is registered for the M.D.A. skate-a-thon.

Chaplain Linda Roth also came to help raise money for the children.

After skating for five hours, everyone needs a break. Kim Long, Gloria Torres, and Mary Rainey find the snack bar one of the best places to rest their legs.

HAY FOR HALLOWEEN?!

Mentors Sponsor Hayride

On October 30, 1982 the Mentors sponsored a hayride for G.C. students. With vans leaving in front of the gym, filled with bundled up, excited students, we rushed off to find out what would be in store. Troutman, N.C. was our destination and we all arrived ready for volleyball, a cookout, bonfire complete with toasted marshmallows and hot chocolate, a walk through a hunted forest, and of course the hayride itself. Although it was a bit chilly we enjoyed ourselves greatly. The Mentors would like to especially thank Mr. and Mrs. Lanier (Sandy Lanier's dad and mom) for putting up with us and entertaining us. Who knows we might come again.

Even though it was cold, Kim Long, Darryl Parks, Natalie Carter, Joe Hickey, John Williamson, Deb Williams, and others got cozy to make the ride a little warmer.

Hot chocolate was a good way to beat the cold as Janet Mullis, Craig Vander Vennet, Teresa Clinton, Deb Williams, Elizabeth Mackey, Dennis Straub, Frank Howard and others discovered.

June Godwin, Mark Venable, Dottie Clem and Craig Vander Vennet take a break from the activities to relax for a minute.

Completing the day's activities was a big, warm bonfire, just perfect for toasting marshmallows.

G.C. Players

ENTERTAINMENT FOR EVERYONE!

The G.C. Players consist of several students here on campus who are interested in drama. The officers are as follows: president, Craig Vandervennet; vice-president, Beth Hayes; and secretary-treasurer, Dale Arnette. Each year these actors and actresses are responsible for bringing loads of entertainment to the Campus and community. This year three productions have been "Tartuffe", "Candlelight" and "Never too Late".

"Tartuffe" was performed in the Parlor Theatre on February 17 and 18, 1983 as a recital production for Elizabeth Mackey. In this satire, Moliere, playwright, portrayed a family overtaken by a swindling impostor.

"Candlelight", by Siegfried Geyer, was a light comedy enacted in the Parlor Theater on April 8 and 9, 1983. It was a comical attack on snobbishness and the cast's performance delighted the entire audience.

A third production, "Never Too Late", was performed on April 21 and 22, 1983 in the Parlor Theater. Never Too Late was a three act comedy, executed for Tricia Robinson's recital production. (Pictures from this play were not available.)

Madame Pernelle (Taffy McLean), Cleante (Mark Venable), and Samis (Dan Sheaffer) discuss Tartuffe's presence in their home.

Elmire (Cheryl Weigert), Filpote (Patricia Foglemen), and Marianne (Dale Arnette) are lectured by Madame Pernelle (Taffy McLean) over tea.

Winter Rose Affair.

Dance All Night!

On December 10th, the first formal dance of the year was held, at the Village Green. The Winter Rose Affair was sponsored by the Student Union. Dressed in their finest clothes, students began arriving at 10:00 p.m. They moved and grooved to the music of Symbol 8 until 1:00 a.m. During band breaks, students munched on delicious hors d' oeuvres and chatted with fellow friends. The evening proved to be a memorable occasion, despite the pouring rain which greeted students as they departed from the dance.

Thom Jones and Robert Stanley execute their talents while performing the line dance.

Jerry Martin and Cynthia Leary show that they've got the beat as the dance continues.

Timmy Day keeps the party rolling by "jamming" to the beat.

Danny Schaeffer and Claire Woodley enjoy a slow dance while those around them do the same.

Caroline Tasch and Richard Hunt enjoy themselves while Symbol 8 keeps the music coming.

Family Feud Eat Your Heart Out.

Campus Feud.

S.C.F., Student Christian Fellowship, had been working on an idea to bring all facets of campus life: staff, faculty, day and dorm students, together in a relaxing, enjoyable atmosphere. Jamie Fadel, then the Project Chairman, thought of having a Campus Feud based on the well known T.V. show "Family Feud". Fadel said, "without the help of all my friends in S.C.F. and the other students who helped, this dream would have never come true."

February 9th, at 8:15 pm was the night of the Campus Feud. It proved to be a very well-liked activity which hopefully will become a tradition on our campus.

The teams were: "The Hayseeds, representing the staff, "The Stars" representing the faculty; "The Beer Chuggers" representing Men's Dorm, "The Kappa Keggers" representing Greensboro Dorm, and "The Valley Girls" representing New Women's Dorm; The M.C. was John "Richie" Williamson. Some of the questions and number one answers were:

Name a Messy food to eat ... Tacos

The most popular International Food ... Pizza.

The most popular annual event on Campus ... Homecoming.

Something a person postpone to do after graduation ... Get married.

Name a document that identify you ... G.C. ID

A sign of boredom in class ... Sleeping.

A common problem of a G.C. student ... no money.

A favorite TV show ... M*A*S*H*.

A favorite movie ... ET

A favorite place on campus ... Student Union

A favorite IM sport ... Basketball

The following are some of the questions and most popular answers that deal directly with the faculty:

Most difficult professor ... Callahan, 2 — Hodge

Class most failed ... Biology, 2 — Hodge's History

Most crazy professor ... Hart, 2 — Cambell.

Class always in demand ... PE., 2 — English.

Most sought after major ... Business, and 2 — Special Education.

The winners of the event were the Valley Girls, who were Laura Moog, captain, Robin Matte, Lucille DeTomasso, and Diana Bowen. This was an evening in which staff, faculty, and students laughed at the same time they expressed their anxieties, opinions, and "strange" humor.

Jamie Fadel welcomes the audience before announcing the teams who will battle it out for first place.

The faculty team. Dr. Rogers, Dr. Powell, Dr. Misenheimer, and Dr. Tatum, laugh as the other team answers peculiarly to the question

Dr. Tatum and Laura Moog shake hands before actually trying to ring the buzzer.

The day students, Lynn Neal, Lisa Gibson, Jane Dickerson, Kathy Rumley and Judy Strader, look at the board to corroborate their answers.

Gail Murphy, one of the staff members, cheers one of her team partners, Mr. Jones, who is seriously thinking of the answer to the question while Judy Strader makes the first move.

Glenn Shurts, Dave Lyles, Robert Lee, and Morris Hayes, the Men's Dorm team, discuss the possible answer to one of the questions asked.

As M.C., John Williamson, reads out the question, Dr. Misenheimer beats Robin Matte to the buzzer.

Dr. Barret considers his answer as John Williamson reads the question.

Casino Night.

Try Your Luck.

Place your bets . . . here at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas . . . OOP! . . . here at G.C. Student Union. At the Casino Nite held on March 18th, you could play the roulette, black jack, wheel of fortune, horse races, and craps. Wait! That's not all. You could even have an auction which will include Tony Tilley's Steak Diner for two, T-shirts, Playboy's puzzle and many, many others. There's more . . . you could enjoy your favorite music while gambling at the tables. For a grand finale you could enjoy a midnight jam!

WAY TO GO WAYNE . . .

Mr. Wayne Stegall in one of the most active and caring staff member at G.C. Wayne has been with us for the past four years as the director of the intramural program. He is not only an enthusiastic professor but an individual who likes to see G.C. students having a good time throughout the year. He offers us a break from our school work through many recreational activities to mention a few — dances, spring-fling, movies, trips to the beach, and many others. You can always find Mr. Stegall in his office which is located in the upper Student Center. The latter is one of the proofs that he really cares for the students here at G.C.

1983-1984 S.G.A. decided to have a Roast in the cafeteria in May of 1983. Students, friends, staff, and faculty members got together to tell all the "goodies" that make-up this wonderful individual; and to give a big pat in the back for his good work here at G.C. We love you Stegall!

Dean Sherrill had an opportunity to tell us about their unique and strange friendship.

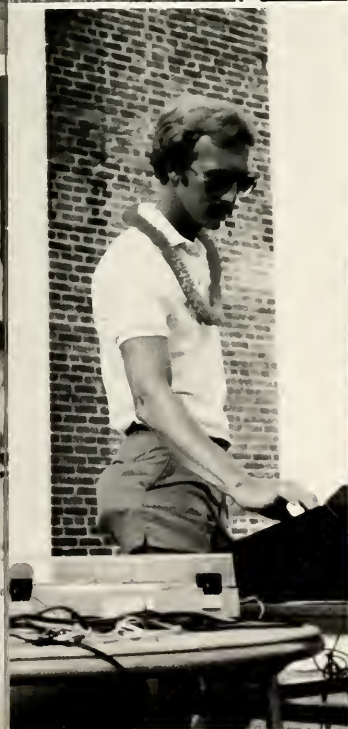

Jamie Foxx gives us the student's point of view about Wayne Stegall.

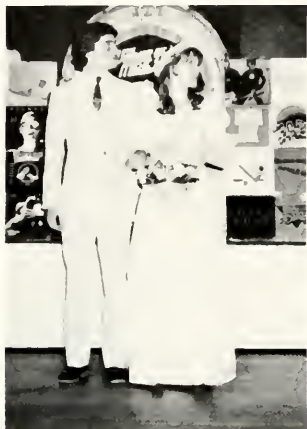

Teresa D'Atley, S.G.A. president, explains the purpose of the Roast

Spring Fling '83

GC's annual Spring Fling was held April 21-24. As usual, Spring Fling turned out to be a big success.

Roller Skating at Skate Station started it off on Thursday night. Friday followed with pool sharks testing their skills and video fanatics trying to top all scores at the Stu party in the Upper Stu. Meanwhile, screams of terror could be heard as "Jason and his helpless victims" visited the Lower Stu in "Friday the 13th in 3-D."

Alumni Day was held on Saturday. Though it rained, that didn't dampen the spirits around GC, especially Saturday night. GC rocked to the sound of "Wayno's Disco" held at the Village Green.

Spring Fling ended on Sunday with a concert by LaVogue, featuring Elaine Penn, one of our prominent GC students.

Since Saturday's rain delayed GC's first annual "Battle of the Sexes" the match was rescheduled for the following Friday. There were a number of "interesting" events, including: Tug-of-War; GC 500; Balloon Stomp; Bug Stuff; and the unforgettable Jello Wrestling Match!

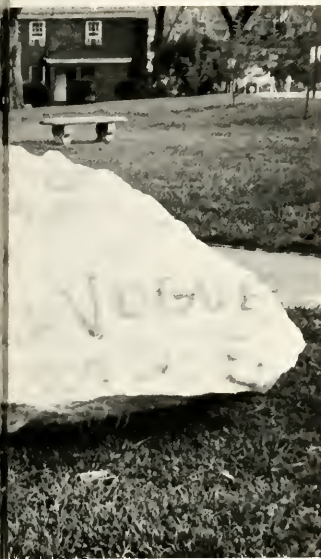

A huge crowd cheered the teams on, as the Ladies' team, coached by "Mean Jean Lojko" glided on to victory against the men's team, coached by Randy Doss. Afterwards, "Slick Rick" and Robert Baylor provided music while everyone "pigged out" at the Annual Pig Pickin'. Yes — Spring Fling '83 will not be forgotten!!

SPORTS

Women's Fall Tennis.

Darry Toler, a former G.C. student and men's tennis team player, returns to G.C. to offer his services in the line of women's tennis. With his coaching and the raw talent of the girls, women's tennis proves to be a challenge to any team in the D.I.A.C.

Fall tennis is a time for new prospects and old members to meet and work together in preparation for the spring season. Their preparation includes scrimmages against other teams in and out of the conference.

MEN'S BASKETBALL.

The 1982-1983 season saw Head Coach Ron Mikels post the most wins he's had as a college coach while the men's basketball team had their finest season since 1977. The Hornets ended their season 11-14 overall and 7-7 in the Dixie Conference. The team hosted the first round conference tournament game against Methodist, and battled back from a 16 point deficit with 9 minutes remaining to capture an exciting 81-77 victory.

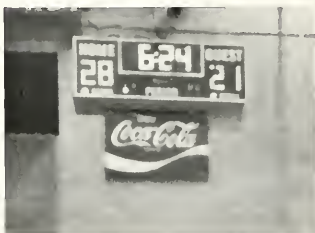

The Hornets lost the semi-final match-up with the naturally ranked Knights of St. Andrews. This makes the second straight year the Hornets made it to the semi-finals.

The team captured its first ever tournament championship in the Washington and Lee Tip-Off Tournament in Lexington, Va. The Hornets also posted wins over nationally-ranked N.C. Wesleyan and arch-rival, UNC-Greensboro.

Senior, Haywood Evans and Jeff King accumulated numerous awards during the season. Evans was voted MVP of the W & L Tournament. Dixie Conference Player of the Week (twice) and honorable mention All-Conference. King was voted to the All-Tournament Team at the W & L Tournament and received honorable mention All-Conference. King also lead the Hornets with a game scoring average of 13.3 points. Sophomore Calvin Hunt tied with Evans in second place scoring while also leading the team in rebounds with 145 on the season. Terrence Blalock was voted Freshman of the Week in December.

Cheerleaders.

One of the most spirited and active groups in our school is the cheerleading squad. Of the 22 girls who tried out, seven made our top quality cheerleading squad. They were: Debbie Anderson, Patty Lauferweiler, Lisa McFadden, Tracy Spencer (co-Captain), Gina Studevent (Captain), Lisa Tysinger, and Susan Matzke as the mascot.

Gina Studevent saw a lot of improvement in the girls from day one to the end of the season. She replied, "we grew closer as the year went on." They had a very active year. The cheerleaders learned new "chants", a complex routine for the Homecoming Game which took a lot of preparation time but it proved to be a success, and Tracy Spencer, the co-Captain, taught the squad four new cheers: "Hey, Yes You", "Get Up and Move", "React", and "We're on Top".

Kathy Holbrook proved to be an enthusiastic and supportive sponsor even though this was her first year. As Gina said, "we couldn't have done it without her." Kathy was considered an inspiration to the squad and they viewed her more like a big sister than just a friend.

The 1982-1983 women's basketball season will be remembered for the team's survival, not its wins and losses. Head Coach Jean Lojko's squad dwindled from 12 to 6 players after the Christmas break. Among those who did not come back for the Spring Semester included Glenda Teams, the nation's number two rebounder at the time of her departure.

When the squad dwindled to six players, Lojko and her players knew they were not going to be able to challenge most teams. Instead the team adopted new goals, such as holding a team to a certain amount of points. It was tough adjustment, but the team did what Lojko asked them to do. Lojko says, "the girls gained a lot of respect this year, they never gave up. Our opponents knew our situation and they respected us because we played so hard". The Hornets only lost one player this year. Senior Deborah Woods, as honorable mention All-Conference Player.

Lady Hornets On The Move!

Intramurals

Fun For All!!

The intramural program here at G.C. is not just comprised of sporting events because it gives all the students a chance to get together and compete, but have fun at the same time. The man responsible for this successful program is Wayne Stegall. Year after year, Mr. Stegall does a terrific job of coming up with new, interesting, and exciting games where students can compete on an intramural level.

Intramurals provide the chance for all students to become involved without necessarily having athletic ability. Intramurals give those of us who are not athletically inclined an opportunity to have fun without worrying about "making the team" or undergoing rigorous, intense training of an intercollegiate program.

Mr. Stegall offers a wide variety of activities to suit everyone's taste. Such activities included in the Fall are Men's, Women's, and Co-Rec Flag Football, 2-Man & 2-Woman Volleyball, Chess, Backgammon, Eightball, Fall Relays, Table Tennis, 3 on 3 Basketball, Men's, Women's, and Co-Rec Volleyball, Tennis, & Putt-Putt. In the Spring, he offers Men's and Women's Softball, The Softball World Series, Men's and Women's Basketball, "Sweetheart" Pool Tournament, Bowling, and much more.

Thank-you Mr. Stegall for giving us so many things to choose from!!

Golf

Tee-Time At Club Four!

The golf team plays a fall and spring schedule. The fall schedule included a 3rd place finish (Green team) and a fourth (White team) in the Aubrey Apple Invitational in September. Coach Locke's team finished 2nd in the Ferrum College Invitational in October. The Hornets have played in three tournaments so far this spring. In the District III Tournament in Sanford, the G.C. Green and White teams finished 2nd and 7th respectively. Jeff Nichols won the individual title with a 70 foot eagle on the fourth sudden-death hole. The squad finished fifth in the James Madison Tournament on March 17th. This tournament was shortened to 18 holes because of rain. On March 28th and 29th the Hornets participated in the Elon College Tournament. The team finished fifth out of 24 teams. Donnie Vanderbeck was the low medalist for G.C. He had a two round score of 152.

1982 '83 National team members: Jeff Nichols, Jim Searcy, Jim Murray, Ricky Duncan, & Donnie Vanderbeck, prepare to leave for their match in Wooster, Ohio

Senior Ricky Hambright is the only member to leave this year and he will surely be missed.

Ricky Duncan chipped in on the 14th hole while practicing at Green Valley

Academic

Dean Barnes Tatum started the fall semester just as always, a professor of Religion. However, when January and the spring semester began, he received a new job — that of Academic Dean. He continued to teach a couple of classes. Welcome to your new position Dean!

Switch

Dr. Y.L. Medlin has been our Academic Dean for many years. When the spring semester began, we found a major change . . . Dr. Medlin had moved over to the Education Department and had become the new chairman. Welcome to A & S Dr. Medlin!

An abstract graphic design on a light cream background. A thin black circle is positioned in the upper left. Two thick, parallel black curved lines originate from the bottom left and sweep upwards and to the right, framing the circle and the text. The text "Who's Who" is written in a black serif font, following the curve of the upper thick line.

Deborah Louise Barker

Greensboro College has been a real experience for me, like everyone else who attends here. The friends I made here will be forever. What more could anyone ask from such a place besides the education that I have received from this institution? I have acquired a great respect for G.C. and the faculty here. They both have enabled me to mature and grow intellectually as well as morally. Anyway, I had a good time!

Jacqueline Marie Brown

Mr. Hart had the most influence on Jackey's college education and was also her favorite professor. Directing was the class she enjoyed the most. When it comes to music, Jackey enjoys jazz; 'Good Morning Heartache', by Billie Holiday is her favorite song. In sports, her favorites are tennis and football, for IM activities it was volleyball. Her favorite saying is 'There are a lot of fish in the sea, you just have to find the right one.'

Ralph Thomas Bryant, Jr.

Football is Ralph's favorite sport, in intramurals he liked basketball. In the ACC, he pulls for Acolina. Economic History was the class he enjoyed the most, and Dr. Hodge was Ralph's favorite professor, but Dr. Grayson had the most influence on his college education. His favorite kind of music is jazz, and his favorite group — who else? — The Greensboro College Gospel Choir.

Amy Kathleen Durr

No other information available.

Who's Who

Thomas Edward Halfaker

Juan Lazaro Herrera

Juan's favorite class was Entomology and the professor who had the most influence on his college education was also his favorite, Dr. Callahan. His favorite color is blue but when it comes to the ACC, he favors red — NC State. Juan's favorite type of music is progressive rock — he enjoys the Police and the song 'Invisible Sun'. His favorite sport is volleyball.

Judith Ann Jackson

No other information available.

Charlene Yvonne Martin

Charlene's favorite saying is 'The main thing is not to get excited.' She enjoys pop and rock 'n roll; her favorite song is 'Landslide' by Stevie Nicks. Charlene enjoyed 1M softball the most. Her favorite professor was Dr. Bunn, but Mr. Frazier had the most influence on her college education.

Laura Moog

Saying thank-you to a community that has offered you a sense of love and support for the past four years and in addition will influence your life in the future. You have all become a part of me that I will never forget!! As I travel from place to place people will hear about Greensboro College and it's people in the name of happiness and love. Peace be with you all!

Lewis Marcus Oldham

I wish to thank all my friends and professors here at G.C. who have given me much encouragement and support. I owe you a great debt. Therefore, I can truthfully say that G.C. has given me a future.

NOT

Vicki Yvonne Smith

Even though all professors were Vicki's favorite, Dr. Rogers was the one who had the most influence on her college education. Student teaching was the course she enjoyed the most. Her favorite color is purple; her favorite ACC team is State. Vicki likes all kinds of music; 'You Are' is her favorite song. Her favorite cartoon character is Woodstock.

Carol Ann Stone

No other information available.

Who's Who

George Darryl Waller

G.C. will always hold a special place within my heart. It has allowed me to grow physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually. I would like to thank the music faculty for showing me the 'professional way' of life and for helping me grow to my fullest potential as an undergraduate.

Cheryl Anne Wiegert

Cheryl's favorite kind of music is rock — she enjoys Van Halen and the song 'Stairway to Heaven'. When it comes to sports, her favorites are IM softball and UNC-Chapel Hill. Her favorite cartoon character is Garfield, and her favorite saying — 'A ship in harbor is safe, but that's not what ships are built for.'

John Arlen Williamson

John enjoys the music of the Police, the video game Phoenix, and Scooby Doo. His favorite movie is 'The Restoration', and his favorite ACC team, Virginia. When it comes to IM activities, batminton tops the list, and in academics, French Civilization is the favorite. John's favorite type of music is pop/top 40, and his favorite song is 'Allentown'.

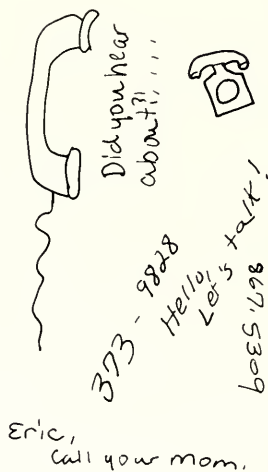

Georgia Elizabeth Worley

Dr. Rogers was Georgia's favorite professor, as well as the one who had the most influence on her college education; the course Georgia enjoyed the most was Intro to the Mentally Handicapped. Her favorite type of music is top 40 — her favorite group is Foreigner, and her favorite song is the theme song from 'Tootsie'. The video game Georgia enjoys the most is Pac-Man, and her favorite movie is 'An Officer and a Gentleman'.

Cap -n- Gown

You're Almost There!

On May 7th the graduation activities began with the traditional Cap -n- Gown ceremony. This took place in Odell Auditorium, around 7 pm. Awards were presented to those Seniors who had achieved academic excellence. Lewis Marcus Oldham received the Harold H. Hutson, Alpha Chi, and the Luella Pugh Knott Music Awards. The Laws and Esten Parks Accounting and the Wall Street Journal Awards were received by Charlene Yvonne Martin. Others were presented to Ralph Thomas Bryant, Jr. (Marvin L. Skaggs History Award), Carol Ann Stone (Zelda Pemberton Education Award), John Williamson (Student Government Association Award), and Laura Moog (Sociology Award).

The representation of the awards was exciting but the most important part of the nights activities was the actual placing of the cap -n- gown on the Seniors. Friends, parents, etc . . . were all there for the occasion with smiles on their faces and pride in their eyes. The Seniors then began to realize, that indeed, they were almost there!

Darryl Waller provides some entertainment to help ease the students' tension.

Dr. Camilla Hoy takes time to recognize the Alpha Chi members, Lewis Marcus Oldham, Janet Mullis, Elizabeth Gardner, Debbie Barker, Charlene Martin, Carol Stone, Cheryl Wiegert, Patricia Sullivan, & Georgia Worley.

Dr. Barrett gets things started by delivering the opening address.

Chaplain Linda Roth presents the Hardee Christian Service Award to Elise Carey and Elizabeth Gardner.

Dr. Hoy presents the Madeline Stinson French Award to Lesa Arnette Robinson Davis and the Anisia Gonzalez Spanish Award to Juan Lazaro Herrera, who was also the recipient of the Senior Mathematics Award.

Judy Jackson, Editor of the ECHO, shakes hands with Dean Howard D. Sherrill after announcing that he is the recipient of the yearbook dedication.

Graduation

Baccalaureate And The Awarding Of Degrees!

A very special and memorable event was held on May 8, 1983. This event was graduation and to many people it was a very happy yet sad occasion. Happy because that long awaited day had finally arrived but sad because of all the relationships and good times which were to be left behind.

This year, due to rain, the exercises were held in Odell Auditorium at 1:00 pm. Chaplain Linda Roth gave the invocation and following that was a hymn — "God of our Fathers" — and the greeting by President Barrett. Next Mr. Coleman, Senior Class Advisor, introduced Amy Durr, Senior Class President. She addressed the students making each one relive something from their past four years. William D. Caffrey, Chairman, Board of Trustees, presented the Old and New Testament Lessons and immediately afterwards, Senior Jacqueline Brown, accompanied by Amelia Benton, sang "The Quest" sending chills up and down everyone's spine.

Next on the program, was the Announcement of the Moore Award Professorship recieved by Dr. Ray Kadunce, Professor of Chemistry. After which, Dr. Barrett introduced the speaker — Julius S. Scott who delivered a most impressive address.

The moment of truth arrived when Dean Tatum presented the candidates for graduation and Dr. Barrett awarded the Diplomas. Then the exercises were completed with the singing of the college Alma Mater and the benediction given by Reverend Earl K. Gibson. Congrats to everyone!

Hi Everyone!

Did you enjoy the book? Betcha thought it would never get here, right? Well, sometimes circumstances which are beyond our control take over. To quote Alexander Pope, "To err is human . . ."

Now let me get all the apologies out of the way. First, I apologize for any missing club pictures that were taken. Second apologies are made for any social life activities and sports that were omitted. Third, and most importantly, to the seniors I apologize for excluding graduation pictures. The only explanation I have is that, though these pictures were taken, we were unable to obtain them. We will definitely try to do better this year.

Since you're heard all of my apologies, and hopefully calmed down, take a second look at this edition of the ECHO. Don't search for the missing items, look at all the memories that are included. Enjoy the book and have a good year.

P...S THANKS TO EVERYONE WHO HELPED WITH THIS BOOK!!

An abstract graphic design on a cream-colored background. It features a thin black circle on the left side. To the right of the circle are two thick, parallel black curved lines that sweep upwards and to the right, resembling a stylized 'U' or a checkmark. The text 'ADS' is printed in a serif font, rotated 45 degrees counter-clockwise, and positioned between the two thick curved lines.

Happiness To The Class Of 1983

~Dave Phillips

College Alma Mater

*To thee, G.C., we lift our praise
We'll cherish thee through countless days.
From knowledge gained and friends we've made
We'll enter life, our foundation laid.
Our thoughts of thee will always be
Among our fondest memories.*

*Our hopes and dreams inspired by you
Will lead us on our whole life through.
Reflections of the years gone by
Created these, our ambitions high.
Our thoughts of thee will always be
Among our fondest memories.*

Remember this always, and take it with you wherever you may go!!
